Never before had issues of miscegenation, wife desertion, alcoholism, and gambling been the subject of a hit musical — one which continues to be revived to this day. Kern collaborated with many great lyricists including Oscar Hammerstein II, Johnny Mercer, P. G. Wodehouse, E.Y. (“Yip”) Harburg, Ira Gershwin, Jimmy McHugh, and Dorothy Fields and his songs won the Academy Award for Best Song in a Motion Picture twice. Singer Will McMillan and pianist Joe Reid find great pleasure in performing Kern classics including "Pick Yourself Up," "I Won't Dance," "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes," "The Song Is You "Ol' Man River," "The Way You Look Tonight," "Bill," "I'm Old Fashioned," and "Can't Help Lovin' That Man."

Saturday, March 4, 2:00 PM Great Courses Video Lecture Series: Masterworks of American Art, Morrison Theatre.

A nation's identity is expressed through its art. Great painters capture the essence of a culture's brightest hopes, deepest anxieties, and most profound aspirations. They provide an aesthetic road map to a nation's history, recording the lives of its citizens and reflecting the personality of an entire people.

But all too often, Americans themselves are unfamiliar with the great artistic legacy of their own country. Many of us study the great artists of Europe—Leonardo and Rubens, Degas and Monet—but neglect the remarkable painters of our own national tradition. Your guide is Professor William Kloss. A noted scholar and art historian, Professor Kloss has taught more than 100 courses as an independent lecturer for the Smithsonian Institution's seminar and travel program. Through 24 engaging and informative lectures, he shares his deep passion for the art of this nation while offering remarkable insights into the relationship between America's history and its art.
